M. S. IRVINE'S, No. 121 Canal-st.

During my late visit to Europe I observed several new instances of incalculable value in my experience—Democritus' hypothesis, which enables the Genius to look into the interior of the eye, and the secret of the brain; the power of the mind to control the heart; the equality of man and woman in respect to looking into the drum of the ear; the cessation of eyes and threat; Jacob's needles for removing extract without pain or danger; the Reservoir, for equipping Artificial Tympani; for instance, rendering hearing more than three times as acute; and last, Artificial Eyes, which look and move exactly like the natural.

After two years extensive practice and experience, principally in this City, and my recent return has given me foreign friends in Europe, I have now come to say that I consider myself competent to treat all those who may place themselves under my care, fully and to extend to them every advantage that can be obtained in either hemisphere. By means of my own personal knowledge, I can assure you that plain and valuable Patients who have been disengaged and wanted travel from our physicians to another, may consult me with entire assurance that at all events, they will receive full and truthful treatment.
